

Electrically Conductive Anti-Fatigue Mats

Electrically Conductive Anti Fatigue Mats are extremely comfortable static discharge floor mats for use around sensitive electronics. These anti-fatigue mats effectively drain static charges from workers when properly installed and used. Two layer construction increases comfort, durability and service life.

These anti-static comfort floor mats are constructed with a durable vinyl top layer permanently bonded to a nitrile impregnated sponge base and feature safety beveled edges to eliminate trip hazards. Increased worker comfort increases productivity and minimizes stress injuries.

Available in two thicknesses, Soft and UltraSoft for long lasting comfort. Diamond plate texture increases traction and safety. These ESD anti-fatigue mats are ideal for use in computer repair labs, electronics assembly stations, copy centers, data centers, near server racks, network switches & in electronics manufacturing settings.

- Safely discharges static when properly grounded
- Diamond plate for increased traction
- Available in Soft (9/16") and UltraSoft (15/16")
- Pre-installed grounding snap
- Two-layer construction for comfort and durability
- Thick sponge offers increased resilience and service life
